PREFACE.

Mrs. Warner, the owner of this collection, having had an objection to Life Insurance, invested her money in coins and medals, knowing the dual advantage of giving her husband a pleasure in aiding her with his judgment in their selection and at the same time having property readily realized upon if thought desirable, and one in which the value was increasing with the holding. The sudden death, October 16th last, of her dear husband, and our esteemed friend, has deprived her of that pleasure which she had in view, and consequently she has placed the entire collection (except the cabinet and numismatic books) in our hands to be sold. For her benefit, we hope collectors will lend their hearty support and aid in making the sale a success.

We sold Mr. Warner's collection at auction June 9–14, 1884, and since that time his numismatic taste has been gratified in the manner set forth above, for it can truly be said of him "once a collector, always a collector." His interest in the pursuit never wavered, and his untimely death is a great loss to the fraternity, not only in America but to numerous collectors abroad with whom he was in constant communication, ever seeking knowledge and information about the series he was most interested in —Communion Tokens, Masonic Medals and Spanish Coins; and had he lived he would have supplemented his admirable pamphlet on "Communion Tokens" with a more extensive work, his knowledge of these interesting souvenirs of a past practice having been augmented by his indefatigable research. It is to be hoped that the Communion Tokens will be purchased for some Historical Society, and so that it might not be irredeemably scattered we have decided to keep it together and sell as one lot. The fine collection of Masonic Medals would, if purchased by some lodge, form the nucleus of a fine collection, for many of them are rare, and which it would not be an easy matter to duplicate.

We have endeavored to correctly describe the various objects and believe collectors will find them equal to the descriptions.

Every coin and medal is guaranteed genuine unless otherwise stated, and we hold ourselves responsible indefinitely.

Bids will be faithfully executed by the other regular dealers and ourselves, and priced catalogues (price, 75c.) can also be obtained. Every sale witnesses letters of bids arriving too late, and we earnestly request collectors to please send in their bids when they receive the catalogue and not put it off until the last moment, when they are liable to be late or forget it altogether.

Thanking collectors and dealers for the liberal support accorded our sales in the past, and soliciting the same hearty patronage for this one, We remain,

Very respectfully,

S. H. & H. CHAPMAN.

AMERICAN MEDALS.

1175 1737 Georgia. Bust of John Tillotson, Archbishop of Canterbury, died 1694. R. Bust of James Oglethorpe, nearly facing, in wig, shirt with open collar and mantle. JACOBUS OGLETHORPIUS, ARMIGER, ADHUC VIVUS, 1737. (James Oglethorpe, Esq., still living, 1737). Exg. NESCIT CEDERE. (England to the world knows not how to yield). Bronze. Proof surface. Original impression (Know of no restrikes). Excessively rare and we believe the first time offered in this country. Only one we have seen. Snelling xxix., 8. Gent. Mag., Nov., 1747. M. I.II, 523. 27.

NOTE.—This medal was struck in gold and presented to the writer of the best poem entitled "The Christian Hero," as advertised in Gent. Mag., 1735. The portrait of Tillotson was placed upon the medal instead of that of Lady Elizabeth Hastings, which was originally intended, but which was prevented by that lady herself. Jas. Ed. Oglethorpe was the founder of the colony of Georgia, in America, to serve as an asylum for the oppressed Protestants of Germany and other Continental States. The first party of colonists arrived at Charlestown in January, 1733. This act, and his philanthropic efforts for improving the condition of the poor debtors confined in London prisons, made him very popular at the time.

THE GREAT COLLECTION OF COMMUNION TOKENS.

1849 Probably as fine and extensive a collection as exists of these interesting pieces. Mr. Warner has expended liberally of his time and money to gather them together, search out their history, etc., etc. Judging by the scarcity, we find to exist, of these pieces, we feel justified in asserting that it would be impossible to duplicate the collection, and we therefore hope it will find a purchaser and place in some Presbyterian historical society or other institution.

They are almost entirely struck in lead, and consist of United States and Canadian, 219; other countries, 874; paper communion cards, 65. Total of 1185 pieces.

To be sold entire as one lot.
